Summary stuff

You were recently referred to clinical genetics as you are currently pregnant and have a family history of Fragile X syndrome. You spoke recently with one of my colleagues to discuss this further. Following your appointment, you were offered genetic testing for Fragile X as there is a 1 in 2 (50%) chance you may be a carrier.

I am writing as I note we have not yet received a blood sample from you. If you would like to proceed with genetic testing, please do have your sample taken at your earliest possible convenience. We are happy to provide additional copies of any blood forms required.

If we do not receive a sample from you, we will assume you do not wish to have any genetic testing at this time, in which case we will not contact you further.
